The commentary by Peter Craigie on the first 50 Psalms is a worthy effort, to say the least. The introductory material (which is intended as an introduction to the book of Psalms as a whole), although not extremely long, contains valuable information on issues such as the origin of Psalmody in Israel, the compilation of the Psalter, the titles of the Psalms, the issue of authorship, the nature ...

ii. Already in Psalm 105 we have repetition of the word He. "The master word in the psalm is the pronoun 'He.' In constant repetition it shows the one thought uppermost in the mind of the singer. It is that of perpetual activity of God in all those experiences through which His people have passed." (Morgan)
